THE MURDER OF JAPANESE AT NANKING.

JAPANESE GOVERNMENT FORMULATING DEMANDS.

Tokyo, September 5th.

A message has been received by the Navy Department stating that the Northern troops, especially Chang Hsuan's troops, were utterly undisciplined.

The entire forces ransacked Nanking, assaulting women and looting Japanese stores.

Hospitals flying the Japanese Red Cross flag also suffered. A party of Japanese going to the Japanese Consulate seeking refuge and carrying a Japanese flag were attacked by Chang's troops and three were killed. Others were killed in another part of the city, where the Japanese flag was insulted. Several Japanese are also missing.

The Jiji, quoting a statement by a Foreign Office official, characterizes the affair as grave. The Japanese Government on September 3rd instructed Mr. Yamaza, the Ambassador at Peking, to notify the Chinese Government and request strict protection of Japanese lives and property.

There are no foreigners at Nanking other than Japanese.

[The foregoing telegram, which was published in our Shipping Extra on Saturday, was received from our Tokyo correspondent in response to a telegraphic inquiry as to the nature of the reports received in Japan relating to the alleged massacre of Japanese at Nanking.]

Tokyo, September 7th.

The Government announces that troops will not be despatched to China.

A party of marines is now protecting the Japanese Colony at Nanking.

The Government is formulating demands respecting the murders at Nanking, and also with regard to an insult offered to two Japanese officers, Lieut. Nishimura and Captain Kawanishi.

An official telegram received at the Navy Department says that General Chang has ordered forty men to be shot at Nanking for plundering, but Japanese property is still being looted.

General Peng entered Nanking on the 4th instant, and his troops are punishing Chang's men who have been found looting.

A body of Chinese bluejackets is protecting Japanese subjects.

JAPANESE OFFICIAL ASSASSINATED.

Tokyo, September 7th.

Mr. Moritaro Abe, Director of the Political Bureau of the Foreign Office, was attacked by two assassins while entering his residence on Friday evening after returning from Shimbashi, where he had been to welcome Mr. Ijima, late ambassador at Peking.

Mr. Abe died on Saturday morning.

He made a gallant attempt to capture his assassins, but fell exhausted.

Mr. Abe's views on the Government's China policy are supposed to have prompted the deed.

ANOTHER HURRICANE IN AMERICA.

COAST TOWNS DESOLATED AND CROPS DESTROYED.

London, September 6th.

The coast of North Carolina has been desolated by a hurricane.

Towns have been demolished, docks, and shipping destroyed, and the crops are virtually a total loss.

It is feared that many people have been killed on Coraco Island.

HEAVY RAINFALL IN NEW YORK.

UNPRECEDENTED DISLOCATION OF TRAFFIC.

New York, September 6th.

The heaviest rainfall for the past decade has caused unprecedented dislocation of traffic. The subways are three feet under water.

BIG FIRE IN ARKANSAS.

2,000 PEOPLE HOMELESS.

Hot Springs, September 7th.

A message from Hot Springs, Arkansas, says that a great fire, a mile long and ten block wide, has swept the eastern section of the city, destroying factories, hotels, residences and public buildings, and rendering 2,000 people homeless.

Dynamite was used to prevent the spread of the fire, but it was useless, as the flames jumped from building to building.

The damage was enormous, and special police were engaged to prevent looting. Troops arrive to-day to patrol the city.

AMERICA'S TARIFF LAWS.

ANTI-CANADIAN RETALIATORY FEATURES REMOVED.

Washington, September 7th.

The countervailing duty on wood pulp has been eliminated from the Tariff Bill by the Senate's Finance Committee, which has presented amendments under which all Anti-Canadian retaliatory features have been removed.

THE SAN FRANCISCO EXHIBITION.

Washington, September 6th.

The Administration is sounding Mr. Roosevelt with a view to his visiting England, France, Germany and other European countries to endeavour to induce them to participate in the San Francisco Exhibition.

THE THAW CASE.

PROSECUTING COUNSEL ARRESTED FOR GAMBLING.

London, September 6th.

A message from Continook states that the famous United States Counsel, Mr. W. T. Jerome, who is representing the New York State against Harry Thaw, has been arrested on a charge of gambling.

Thaw's lawyers disclaim all knowledge of the matter. The arrest is generally attributed to the townspeople's ill-feeling towards Mr. Jerome. A townsman lodged the complaint.

The accusation against Mr. Jerome is that he was playing a penny card game on railway premises with journalists while waiting for the hearing of the case. He was locked in a small cell, while the crowd outside made a demonstration, and he was eventually bailed out in $300.

The Thaw case is at once bewildering and comical. It is stated in New York that a Judge at Montreal has issued a writ of Habeas Corpus requiring the immediate production of Thaw at Montreal.

LATER.

Mr. Jerome has slipped quietly across the border into the United States, and has failed to surrender to his bail.

Counsel pleaded that he was unavoidably detained, and the case was adjourned.

THE AMERICA CUP.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE FOR A COVETED PRIZE.

New York, September 7th.

Mr. Herreshoff is building a seventy feet all-steel sloop, which will be entered as a candidate to defend the America Cup.

CONCERT IN THE THEATRE ROYAL.

The concert and variety entertainment, the proceeds from which will go to augment the building fund of the Diocesan Girls' School, took place on Saturday evening in the Theatre Royal. The entertainment, which was promoted by Mrs. Montagu Harston, assisted by others interested in the above-mentioned educational institution, was a pronounced success and went through without a hitch from start to finish. As was anticipated, there was a crowded house and the efforts of the talented local artists who gave their services and acquitted themselves excellently were rewarded with unstinted applause. The first part of the programme, which must be characterised as the "Concert" portion, opened with a very spirited rendering of Rossini's overture "Tancredi" by the orchestra of the 2nd Bn. D.C.L.L., whose services were available by kind permission of Major Dickinson and the other officers of the Battalion. This was followed by various items, vocal and instrumental, pre-eminently among them being Mrs. Hogg's artistic interpretation of the "Slave Song" (Riego). Mrs. Hogg was in excellent voice and was deservedly encored. Mr. C. P. Hay delighted the audience with his rendering of Liszt's "Mephistopheles" when young, his pleasing baritone voice being heard to good effect. Of the instrumentalists Miss Huskyn secured a success with her piano solo "Liebestraum" (Liszt), and was recalled. Mr. Denman Fuller was also prominent, his contribution being a piano and orchestra adaptation of Mendelssohn's Concerto in G minor. Mr. Denman Fuller's execution on the piano was masterly, but the intricacies of the piece taxed the abilities of the orchestra to the uttermost. A Gavotte for piano and two violins by Mrs. Aubrey, Mrs. Murray Scott and Miss Orr also evoked unstinted applause.

The second portion of the programme was of the nature of a variety entertainment and was a huge success. Mrs. Hunter, in costume, sang two Spanish songs accompanying herself on the bandora. Her naïveté was irresistible and charmed the house. Miss Lilian White also sang very sweetly and had to respond to an encore. The other items were all excellently rendered, including Mr. West's Living Marionettes, whose antics convulsed the audience. The colour schemes were a noticeable feature during the second half of the performance and evidenced artistic originality. The whole entertainment was of a distinctly high order and deservedly successful.

At the conclusion of the first part of the programme, Bishop Lander, on behalf of the Committee of the Diocesan Girls' School, thanked those who had been instrumental in arranging the entertainment, especially endorsing the services of Mr. Denman Fuller and Mrs. Montagu Harston. The latter had been indefatigable in her efforts to bring the concert to a successful issue. Mrs. Harston was then presented with a magnificent bouquet and gracefully bowed her acknowledgments.

GOVERNMENT REVENUE IN THE PHILIPPINES.

The Philippine Government collects as internal revenue one-third of 1 per cent. of the gross business done by merchants and manufacturers in the Islands. The fiscal year ending June 30th, 1909, was the last before the opening of free trade with the United States. The figures for the four subsequent years therefore show the resulting stimulus to business.

The gross business on which the percentage tax was collected in 1909 was P380,000,000. The increases over that year have been—

IN BANKRUPTCY.

BEFORE HIS HONOUR SIR W. REES DAVIES (CHIEF JUSTICE).

CLERK ADJUDICATED BANKRUPT.

A Chinese clerk named Tam Tak Pui appeared for public examination, which was conducted by the Official Receiver (Mr. H. A. Nesbitt). Debtor said his liabilities amounted to $1,000, and attributed his failure to two years' illness and to $175, which he owed as security for a friend. To pay his doctor and the amount he guaranteed, he borrowed $1,400 from moneylenders at the rate of 7 cents per dollar per month. He received a salary of $30 monthly, and had to support a wife and two children, but in this his father, with whom he lived, assisted him. He had agreed to pay $10 monthly for the benefit of his creditors.

The examination was closed, debtor was adjudicated bankrupt, and the Official Receiver was appointed trustee.

SEAMAN IN DIFFICULTIES.

Pai Tsai Chan, a junk master, appeared for public examination. He told the Court that he lost his junk in a storm a few years ago, and that he borrowed money to build another. Business prospered in the beginning, but subsequently he lost heavily, and owing to pressure of creditors he was compelled to sell his junk. His liabilities amounted to about $8,500 and he had no work, but was living on the charity of friends and relatives.

The examination was closed, and the judgment creditor, who was represented by Mr. P. Sydenham Dixon (of Messrs. Wilkinson & Grist) was allowed $110 out of the assets for protecting the estate.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERALSHIP OF THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

MR. FORBES' FAREWELL.

Mr. W. Cameron Forbes issued the following proclamation in the Philippine Islands last week:—

I hereby announce that to-day I retire from office under the Government of the United States of America in the Philippine Islands, my resignation as Governor-General having been accepted by the President of the United States, effective September 1st, 1913.

The Honourable Francis Burton Harrison, of New York, has been named my successor. Mr. Harrison will take the oath of office in the United States and become Governor-General of the Philippine Islands on September 2nd, 1913.

Beginning to-morrow the Honourable Newton W. Gilbert, Vice-Governor, will take on the duties of Acting Governor-General.

In this, my last official announcement, I desire to express to the members of the Philippine Commission, to the Speaker and members of the Philippine Assembly, to the Judiciary, to the Commanding General and the officers of the army and navy, to the Directors of Bureaux and those serving with them, to the Provincial Governors, their associates and subordinates, to the officers and employees of the City of Manila and other Municipal Governments, and to the people of the Philippine Islands, both in public and private life, my deep appreciation of their support and co-operation, to which is due whatever of progress and of accomplishment there may have been during my administration.

My intimate association with the Philippine people and their problems during nine years has filled me with confidence for their future prosperous development, and I retire filled with faith in their continued loyalty and helpfulness to the Government of the Philippine Islands. I bespeak for my successor the same measure of support that I have received.

THE "NIPPON" RELEASED.

An agreement as to a reward for salvage has been reached between Erlanger and Galigner of Manila and the owners of the steamer Nippon, and as a result Judge Crossfield has dismissed the suit of Erlanger and Galigner and ordered the Nippon to be released from attachment.

The amount of 160,000 pesos, realized from the sale of the Nippon's cargo, is held by the insular collector of customs pending the orders of the court. 150,000 pesos, it is believed, is the amount paid by the owners of the Nippon for salvaging the stranded vessel.—Cablenews.

RANDOM REFLECTIONS.

As the typhoon signals were up for two whole days at the end of last week, this has been one of the principal topics of conversation in a deadly dull week. For a second time this season the need has been emphasised of that wireless station on the Pratas, promised by the Chinese Government, about six years ago, for the purpose of reporting the course of typhoons; but I suppose the British authorities fear to press the matter lest the Chinese Government should reply that it is patiently awaiting the fulfilment of the British Government's pledge to provide a wireless station at Hongkong. One is able to recognise that there may be difficulties requiring prolonged discussion and consideration in connection with the Imperial wireless chain system, but why this intolerable delay in providing so important a shipping centre as Hongkong with the long-promised medium-range station? An illustration of its need has been furnished by the Pacific mail steamer Persia this week, which had to run south, in crossing from Manila, to get out of the possible track of the typhoon, and she was only able to inform the Hongkong agent by wireless to Manila, and having the message forwarded from there by submarine cable. Verily sup.

Now that the old Clock Tower has been entirely demolished, I am reminded of a letter which appeared in the Daily Press some months ago suggesting the simultaneous removal of the trees in Pedder Street. While the Tower stood, it seemed sacrilege almost to remove them, but now that the Tower is demolished the need for the removal of these straggling trees is very evident.

This reference to a matter that perhaps falls within the province of the Public Works Department, reminds me that I owe the Department an apology which I hasten with all humility to make. A fortnight ago I remarked on the damage done to the Praya by the sea during the typhoon which came so near to the Colony, and I lamented that the Department appeared to be repairing the road in the same old and inefficient way, notwithstanding the fact that the superiority of the tar macadam process had been plainly demonstrated by the perfect condition of the section of the Praya in front of the Post Office, while the remainder of the thoroughfare over its entire length had been rendered almost unfit for traffic. It so happens that it was unjust to say in this connection that "experience counted for nothing with the Department, for I subsequently learnt that on the very day my note was printed several tons of tar macadam material was seen on the Praya ready for laying, and this material must have taken some few days to prepare. Therefore the decision to surface the road with tar macadam must have been reached before my note was printed. Hence my apology. I refrain from mentioning a few other roads that need similar treatment, lest I should find to-morrow or the next day that my suggestions have been anticipated by an alert Department.

It has frequently seemed to me lately that our Magistrates, in view of the state of lawlessness prevailing in the neighbouring province, might show a little more discrimination in dealing with Chinese who are brought before them on a charge of being in possession of arms without a permit. A fine of $250 is invariably imposed. In the great majority of cases it is right that the Magistrates should "learn 'em a lesson" by imposing the maximum penalty, but it seems rather hard on the returned emigrant, who comes from Australia, Canada, the United States, or the "Countries of the Southern Seas," with all his savings stowed away in his waist-belt and a revolver in his pocket for their protection. There was a case the other day of a Chinese returning from Australia with 300 sovereigns in his belt. He was passing through Hongkong to his native country—"Canton side, more far"—and he had been advised that the place was over-run with robbers. That seems to be true of scores of places. In many parts of Kwangtung every second man appears to be armed, and it is distinctly rough on the emigrant returning to China with all his wealth concealed on his person to be haled before the Magistrate as he passes through Hongkong, mulcted in $250, and then required to forfeit his revolver and ammunition in addition.

An amusing little incident of the warfare in the North has been chronicled by a Shanghai contemporary. All the Chinese rebels wore on their chests white cloth badges with the name of their regiment and a chip. These were affixed usually by means of safety pins, but an observant foreigner noticed a cavalry officer sporting a gold brooch with Roman letters on it. There is no earthly reason why an officer should not indulge in a foreign brooch when safety pins serve the rank and file. Unhappily this officer knew not a word of English. Had he done so he would have consigned the brooch to the nearest pawnshop. It was a beautiful specimen of the goldsmith's art, and admirably lettered, but the inscription it bore was "Baby."

CIVIL SERVANTS AND LOCAL BUSINESS ENTERPRISES.

The Gazette notifies that the Pension Minute dated January 1st, 1912, published on pages 4 to 15 of the Regulations of Hongkong, 1910, has been amended by the addition of the following clause:—

"If any person to whom a pension has been granted under this Ordinance becomes, on his final retirement from the service of the Colony, either a Director of any Company the principal part of whose business is in any way directly concerned with the Colony, or an officer or a servant employed in the Colony by any such Company, without in every such case the permission of the Governor in writing first had and obtained, then in every such case it shall be lawful for the Governor, with the approval of the Secretary of State, to direct that such pension shall forthwith cease: provided always that it shall be lawful for the Secretary of State, on being satisfied that the person in respect of whose pension any such direction shall have been given has ceased to be a Director of such Company or to be employed as an officer or servant of such Company in the Colony, as the case may be, to give directions for the restoration of such pension, with retrospective effect, if he shall see fit, to such a date as he shall specify."

HONGKONG, SEPTEMBER 8th, 1913.

It is remarkable with what steady persistence the idea of a tunnel between Dover and Calais has been kept alive in England. Despite the strongest official discouragement, at any rate during the past thirty years. Interest in the project has been stimulated recently by an important announcement by the Prime Minister, who told a deputation which waited upon him that the Channel Tunnel project has been under consideration recently by the Government, who have been in communication with the Admiralty and War Office and other Departments in regard to it. His Majesty's Ministers are reviewing existing conditions, said Mr. Asquith, in effect, in order that the Committee of National Defence may be consulted as to the advisability of constructing the Channel Tunnel. The question is one which has had a very remarkable history. The first serious proposal to construct a tunnel beneath the Straits of Dover came, we believe, from a Frenchman as far back as 1802. There have been schemes since not only for a tunnel but for a Channel bridge and also for a tubular railway along the bed of the sea. Mr. Asquith, when he met last month a deputation from a Committee of Members of Parliament in favour of a Channel Tunnel, recalled the fact that in the early days of this project it was favoured by both the French and the English Governments. As far back as 1874 the British Foreign Office approved of the idea. Mr. Asquith went on to say: "It was only early in the eighties, when the military and strategic aspects of the matter came to be gone into, that doubts were entertained, and that finally he thought in 1883—largely in consequence of the report of a Joint Committee of both Houses, presided over by Lord Lansdowne, the Government of that day, represented by Mr. Chamberlain, then President of the Board of Trade, came to the conclusion that the interests of this country would not be promoted but might be seriously jeopardized by the carrying out of any such scheme. Their opinion was very largely founded on military considerations, and among other authorities, upon the great authority—there had been no greater in our time on military matters—of Lord Wolseley, who from first to last was a most determined opponent of any project for a Channel Tunnel, on the ground that it would destroy the insular security of this country." From that time the scheme has been resolutely opposed by every Government. Bills for sanctioning the Tunnel were rejected on the motion of the Government almost in every year from 1883 to 1894. The last division was taken at the instance of Sir Michael Hicks Beach in 1890, when the Bill was rejected; and in the following years, from 1891 to 1894, it was either rejected or withdrawn without any division at all. Finally the late Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, after the matter had been considered by the Committee of Defence, in March, 1907, announced the decision of his Government, which was in accordance with the action which had been taken by all his predecessors for nearly twenty-five years. Hence Mr. Asquith told the deputation that the Government could not lightly undertake to reverse the considered decision of their predecessors for a quarter of a century. Mr. Asquith agreed that there are now facts to be considered now. "One of them, perhaps the most hopeful and in some ways the most important," he said, "is the establishment on a solid, and I hope unshakable, basis of friendly relations with France, who was of course, the potential enemy—in the apprehensions of Lord Wolseley and those who adopted his view—whose power of offence or aggression would or might be assisted by the construction of the Tunnel. The possibility of such an enmity has faded away through the excellent and growingly cordial relations which ever since the Agreement of 1904 we have continued to maintain with our friends on the other side of the Channel. There are, again, other new factors in relation to the progress of naval and military warfare and to the distribution and character of our resources in food supply which undoubtedly deserve consideration." It would seem that there is more hope for the scheme now than there ever was. Costly though the undertaking will be, no difficulty is anticipated in getting the necessary capital. It is estimated that the Tunnel will cost £16,000,000 to construct, but there is Mr. Lionel de Rothschild's written authority for the statement that "the money can be quite easily found for the Tunnel." There are many who consider that an exaggerated importance has been attached to the view that the making of the tunnel would destroy England's strategic safety. Their view is represented by Mr. T. P. O'Connor in these terms: "All the objections which have been raised from the point of view of national safety I regard as perfectly ridiculous. As I understand it, a pound of dynamite could always make the Tunnel impassable to any invader. An invading army which got into the Tunnel, even if that were possible, would be seeking the best and quickest way of having itself mown down." Such possibilities as these can hardly have been overlooked in the consideration of the question by the responsible authorities in the past, and we must conclude that this argument is not quite so convincing to military experts as it appears to the layman. Mr. Asquith has made it clear that the Government's approval of the enterprise is dependent upon the verdict of the Committee of Imperial Defence as to whether existing conditions are such as justify a reversal of the decision so persistently adhered to by successive Governments during the past thirty years. It is interesting to learn that the subject has been engaging the attention of the Government for some time past, and presumably the public will not have long to wait for news of the result of the Government's deliberations on this interesting question.

A shop-keeper, at 19, Canton Road, Kowloon, has reported to the police that about three o'clock on Saturday morning he was awakened by his foki shouting "Thieves." He got up and found the back door had been broken open, while the safe, in which there was some money, was missing. He went out and saw a number of Indians bearing the safe away. He raised an alarm, and the Indians ran away to the barracks. The safe and the money were recovered.

The Colonial Treasurer's financial statement for the month of June shows that the balance of assets and liabilities on May 31st was $2,749,101.86, and the revenue derived during June was $683,551.67, making a total of $3,432,653.43. Deducting the expenditure for June, which amounted to $639,545.40, the balance stands at $2,793,108.03. The statement of assets and liabilities shows that the total assets stand at $5,789,932.58, while the total liabilities amount to $2,996,824.55.

Returns of the average amount of bank notes in circulation and of specie in reserve in Hongkong, during the month ended 31st August, 1913, as certified by the managers of the respective Banks are as follows:—

Banks	Average Amount.	Specie in Reserve.
Chartered Bank of India, Australia, and China	$ 6,840,267	$ 5,000,000
Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation	21,473,684	15,000,000
Mercantile Bank of India, Ltd.	855,601	252,000
Total	$29,169,552	$20,252,000

THE MAGISTRACY.

LUKONG CONVICTED OF ACCEPTING BRIBES.
The Chinese constable who was charged with accepting two bribes of $10 each from two men who had knives in their possession on board the s.s. Harmon, was fined $100 or six weeks' hard labour on each count.

OPIMUM CASE TO BE RE-HEARD.
Mr. C. E. Mason, from the office of Mr. F. X. d'Almeida, applied to Mr. Orme on Saturday for the re-hearing of a case in which a Chinese was fined $80 for being in possession of opium dross. He stated that he could prove that the opium did not belong to his client, and he would endeavour to call the real owner of the opium. The application was granted, and the case fixed for Tuesday.

CHARGE OF OBSTRUCTION DISMISSED.
Messrs. Gande, Price & Co. were summoned before Mr. Hazeland on Saturday for allowing a truck to cause an obstruction at Wanchai. Mr. C. Bond, who attended in answer to the summons, explained that the obstruction was unavoidable. As the men were bringing spirits and mineral waters on a truck from Wanchai, a lemonade bottle burst and cut a coolie about the hands very severely. He had to go to a Chinese medicine shop to be bandaged, and while he was away an Indian constable came along, and a summons for obstruction was taken out. His Worship dismissed the case.

TROUBLESOME CHAIR COOLIES.
Mr. A. H. Hollingsworth, of the Public Works Department, charged three chair coolies before Mr. Orme with obstruction by "rushing" with their chairs. Complainant stated that in Ice House Street, between Queen's Road and Des Vœux Road, he was obstructed in his passage by chair coolies, who rushed at him and solicited hire. Feeling that it was a case where the men should be prosecuted, he chased them into Des Vœux Road and there took their numbers. Inspector Withers said that he had had a lot of complaints of this sort of thing, and it was difficult to get Europeans to come to Court and prosecute, as they would have to leave their business to do so. Mr. Hollingsworth added that he was a lightweight, and the chair coolies rather "made a set" at him. (Laughter.) Heavy people they usually let alone. The coolies were fined $6, $5, and $3 respectively.

THE RAILWAY SMASH IN ENGLAND.

ATTRIBUTED TO INFERIOR COAL.

LONDON, September 6th.

At the inquiry into the railway disaster at Aigill, the engine-driver of the Glasgow express gave evidence to the effect that he was unable to surmount the gradient owing to the inferior quality of the coal. He believed that such stoppages were frequent. He had asked for a pilot engine, but was refused.

The fireman also attributed the stoppage to the smallness of the coal.

The Board of Trade Inspector made the inquiry public in deference to a general demand to this effect.

The General Manager of the Midland Railway attended in order to urge that the proceedings should be fully reported. He expressed the utmost sympathy with the sufferers.

Mr. George Lindsay, the London stock-broker who was seriously injured in the accident, has succumbed.

There are now 17 dead in the Aigill disaster.

Sir Arthur Douglas has succumbed. The driver of the second train gave evidence at the inquiry. He said he went round oiling the engine when the critical signals were passed, and thought the distant signal was hoisted before Mallerstang was clear, but was not quite certain. Unfortunately, he did not look a second time as he usually did.

The fireman admitted that he did not tell the driver that he was not watching the signals.

Both men dwelt on the trouble experienced in firing the engine owing to the smallness of the coal.

The Board of Trade Inspector complimented both the driver and the fireman on the straightforward manner in which they gave their evidence.

ITALIAN FEELING AGAINST AUSTRIA.

VISIT OF ITALIAN FOREIGN MINISTER TO VIENNA POSTPONED.

ROME, September 7th.

It transpires that as a result of the dissatisfaction caused in Italy by Ordinances dismissing foreigners from the service of the Municipality at Trieste, which is supposed to be directed against Italians, the proposed visit of the Italian Foreign Minister, Marchese A. Di San Giuliano, to Vienna, has been postponed.

According to the Italian Press, the Ambassador at Vienna frankly told Count Berchtold that the Foreign Minister could not at present fulfil the engagement, which would certainly irritate Italian opinion.

EXPLORERS KILLED BY ESKIMOS.

NATIVE'S TERRIBLE REVENGE.

OTTAWA, September 6th.

News has been received here that Messrs. Radford and Street, American and Canadian explorers respectively, who left Chesterfield, an inlet in Hudson Bay, in 1911, to travel overland to Bathurst, an inlet to the Arctic Ocean, have been murdered by Eskimos at Schultz Lake in the winter of 1912.

It appears that Radford quarrelled with a native and kicked him. The native killed Radford with a spear, and Street, running to assist his colleague, was speared in the back.

This is the first instance of the murder of white explorers by Eskimos.

AERIAL TRAMWAY FOR BAGUIO.

Mr. Herbert C. Heald, of Baguio, has been granted a franchise by the Philippine Commission and authorized to build an aerial tramway from Colgan's Camp to Baguio, a distance of five miles.

The purpose of the tram is to haul freight and express, at a rate of one-half centavo per kilo for freight, and one centavo for express. A site for a lumber yard in Baguio is also included in the concession. It is claimed that there will be a great saving of wear and tear on the upper portion of the Benguet Road, from the Zigzag to Baguio, and a corresponding saving to government vehicles.

During the first two years of the franchise the government is to receive one-fourth of one per cent. of the gross receipts, and two per cent. for the remaining eighteen years of the concession.

IN HOC SIGNO VINCES.
THE MEANING OF THE 16TH
CENTENARY OF CONSTANTINE,
313-1013.

[CONTRIBUTED.]

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Pozzoni, Vicar Apostolic of Hongkong, has issued a Pastoral Letter to all the Catholics of Hongkong and its dependencies, in which he gives the story of the Centenary, and urges all the faithful to participate in the forthcoming festivities. His Lordship has appointed the 14th instant the day of the feast of the "Invention of the Cross."

The festivities will take the form of a Triduum whose Horarium is affixed at all the entrances to the Cathedral, and at the last page of the said Pastoral Letter. They will commence on the 13th instant (morning and evening services).

His Lordship suggests some kind of illumination to be made in all the Catholic homes on the night of the 14th instant—say, each house to place an illuminated Cross in a conspicuous place or at the windows.

If this suggestion is generally adopted the effect of the illumination viewed from the harbour must be impressive.

The victory of the Emperor Constantine in the vicinity of Rome and the Edict of Milan, published a few months after, are the two principal facts that the Constantine festivities are proposed to commemorate.

Both of them, says the official programme, have had the highest meaning in the history. "In the celebration, of such events, which have changed the destinies of the world, all the nations must rejoice, who have received from Christianity their inspiration to progress either in moral order or in material and, above all, human civilisation."

Of the four Casars who divided among themselves the Government of the Roman Empire, Constantine, the son of Constantia Chloro and of Helena, was the man chosen by Providence as the instrument of His victory. A miraculous vision appeared to him in the heavens that the Sacred Cross had guided him to victory: the very Jesus appeared to him in a vision telling him that the Roman Eagles should give place to His Holy Name. He was thus encouraged to cross over the Alps in pursuit of the enemies of the Church. In the short period of 50 days Constantine, with 40,000 soldiers, defeated the three legions of Maxentius, first in the campaign of Turin, then on the banks of Adige, in Verona, and finally on the Ponte Milvio on the banks of the river Tiber, a decisive victory was gained which made him the master of the world.

The Roman Senate, although pagan, in taking the phrase instinctu divinitatis, recognised the supernatural hand which protected the victorious General. Better than any one else the same Constantine has declared the nature of his victory. Regarding it more as a social than an individual triumph, and recognising that he had only been the instrument of God, he ordered an enormous Cross to be put in the hands of the statue which the Romans consecrated to him, and beneath it the following words: "Hoc uno fortitudinis examine insigni Salutis urbem vestram supra tyrannidis creptum liberavit. S.P.Q.R. auctoritate pristina dignitatem restituit." This eloquent proclamation of the triumph of the Cross is recorded by Eusebius in the life of Constantine and in Ecclesiastical History.

THE DISTRIBUTION OF THE BRITISH FLEET.

A STRIKING CHANGE IN TEN YEARS.

An article in the Fortnightly Review, dealing with what may be called the "stay-at-homeness" of the Navy, is attracting a good deal of attention, although the subject is one which, in one form or another, has been discussed intermittently ever since the concentration of the fleet in home waters began in 1904. It is unfortunately the fact that the distribution of the fleet necessitated by existing political conditions involves both officers and men in an expenditure which they would not incur on foreign service, and this is a factor which reacts to the detriment of both naval and national efficiency. However, it is one thing to point out the existence of an evil, and quite another—particularly in this case—to suggest a remedy. Let us see first of all the extent of the changes brought about during recent years. Taking ships of all classes as shown in the list of fleets at home and abroad in the Navy List, the following is the comparison between 1903 and 1913, omitting, of course, vessels in reserve:

	1903.	1913.
Mediterranean	57	19
North America and W.I.	14	3
S.E. Coast of America	2	1
Pacific	4	2
Cape of Good Hope	13	3
East Indies	9	9
China	41	30
Australia	12	4

Total Foreign stations. 152
Home waters. 56

In ten years there has thus been a numerical reduction of a half in our naval forces on foreign stations. The decrease would be much greater if it were expressed in men or in tonnage, as will be evident

Professor John Milne, whose death is recorded, was a model of courage during earthquakes. Even the Japanese, who are used to such phenomena, and are not a nervous people, marvelled when, during an earthquake costing several thousand lives, he continued calmly to watch the movements of the seismograph, oblivious of risk. They therefore conferred on him of risk. They therefore conferred on him of risk. They therefore conferred on him of risk.
